Normal School Exposed

TICES REVEALED BY INVESTIGATIONAL AFFAIRS IN THE BY STATE SUPERINTENDENT OF SCHOOLS.

There has been a course of study. A course of study was submitted as being the high school course of study, but the students themselves stated that this was not the course of study that they pursued. This was not denied by the President of the Kentucky Normal College.

One of the graduates, during her first year in high school in the Kentucky Normal College was given a list of subjects in each of which she received credit for the entire school year. Of these six subjects, two only are recognized high school subjects and for these two subjects only one and a half high school credits could be granted, no matter how perfectly the student might master them.

Students in the High School Department of the Kentucky Normal College were not graded nor classified until they reached the senior year. Students in the Kentucky Normal College were never examined in their daily work, where they were graded at all. Students were never given a written statement of their grades. No written notice of any sort was ever sent to the parents. Neither students nor parents had any way of knowing whether the student was succeeding or failing in any subject.

The President of the Kentucky Normal College seems to have been graded entirely upon their daily work, where they were graded at all. Students were never given a written statement of their grades. No written notice of any sort was ever sent to the parents. Neither students nor parents had any way of knowing whether the student was succeeding or failing in any subject.

should be recognized and that they should be given an opportunity to enter college or university. It would not be fair to punish these children for conditions over which they had no control and for failures of which they had no knowledge.

From this investigation, it also appears that the Kentucky Normal College now has absolutely no claim to be placed upon the accredited list and that any actual investigation of this school at any time during the past few years would have resulted in its removal from the accredited list. The Kentucky Normal College cannot expect recognition for the work done in it until it corrects all of the conditions indicated above. It must have an approved course of study, not on paper, but actually taught; it must classify its high school students; it must provide for a proper way of testing the proficiency of its students and not rely upon the personal estimate or memory of teachers; it must keep a complete, accurate, permanent set of records; it must advise parents from time to time of the progress of the child; in other words it must meet the same standards that other schools meet before it will be entitled to consideration.

The Louisa City High School will remain upon the accredited list of high schools, provided students who enter this school from other schools are required to submit written credentials or to take an examination to establish the credits that they claim.

In closing this report I cannot refrain from making a few statements relative to the school situation in Louisa. The situation there, as I see it, and as it relates to the schools, is unfortunate and deplorable. It is unnecessary to attempt to place the blame for these conditions. What every citizen in Louisa should concern himself about, however, is the best and quickest possible way for correcting these conditions. I have no hesitancy in advising that Louisa will not have done her duty to her children until she has provided a thoroughly efficient public school. The sort of school, it seems to me that the citizens of Louisa should strive for, is a school owned by all the people supported by all the people, to which the children of all the people should have access without cost. The statement was made that 90 per cent of the people in Louisa were opposed to the public schools. Even if this be true, and I do not believe that it is true, it is better to be for the children with 10 per cent of people than against the children with 90 per cent of the people. I have great confidence in the people of Louisa. There is not a finer community in all Eastern Kentucky. I do not believe that they knew the actual conditions and the actual facts as shown by this investigation. I know that they will allow no selfish or personal consideration of any sort to stand in the way of giving to every child, rich or poor, the fullest, freest, fairest opportunity to make the most of his life.

Very truly yours,
G. W. COLVIN,
State Superintendent.

In The Hands of The Public.

Up to this time the parents and the general public could plead ignorance, at least a part and perhaps the worst part, of the bad features in our school situation; but after getting the facts set forth as above there can be no longer any excuse for this community submitting to the abuses to which our young people have been subjected.

There has been an increasing realization during the past few years that the conditions were bad, but it was not until last year that a real step forward was taken. Against all the handicaps and propaganda that could be devised, the new school board established a high school upon the basis of state requirements. In spite of all the opposition that could be entered, the school was a success and the second year is starting so well that there is no longer any doubt about its permanency.

In addition to the statement of Mr. Colvin there is a great deal that should be made public. Experiences are being recited on the streets more freely than ever, and the expressions indicate unmistakably that Louisa is at last awake to the situation, and that our people are determined to come to the rescue of the youth of this county and city, which once held first place in the Big Sandy valley in educational efficiency.

Rev. Kirby's Daughter Drowned at Buchanan

The death of the six year old daughter of Rev. Mr. W. A. Kirby of Buchanan occurred Wednesday.

Gazing intently at a passing N. & W. train, the six-year-old girl, Ruth, fell through a hole in a bridge at 10 a. m. Friday and was drowned before her body was about midway of the bridge which is near her home, when she fell through the hole. The engineer on the train, which she had been watching, saw the accident and stopped his engine. He sounded the alarm and assisted by his crew and residents of the neighborhood succeeded in recovering the body from the water within twenty-five minutes. Respiration could not be restored to the still form despite efforts continuing for an hour.

Funeral services were held at the residence with the Rev. Mr. C. A. Slaughter of Ashland, presiding, and burial at Buchanan.

The girl's father, Rev. Mr. Kirby, was married to Miss Susanna Price of Buchanan in Catlettsburg, Wednesday. He has been pastor of the Buchanan M. E. Church South for some time.

BIG CELEBRATION WEEK CLOSED PROGRAM SUNDAY

Louisa's Greatest Event Carries Intense Interest to The End.

The centennial home coming and county fair week closed with the Sunday exercises. The attendance continued large to the close of the big week. It was the largest and most successful affair ever held in Louisa. Everybody enjoyed it immensely. Those who had not been here for many years were delighted with the growth and improvement of the town.

On Thursday evening of last week the prize of a sewing machine went to J. H. Cordle, Jr., of Cordell, No. 2356. Friday and Saturday were given over to the county fair. The exhibits were highly creditable. No better produce are to be found at any fair. The live stock display was of the highest type. Thoroughbred stock was plentiful. We are unable this week to publish the agricultural and live stock awards, but expect to give the complete list next week.

Band concerts were given morning, afternoon and night, much to the delight of the crowds. The band was forced to leave Saturday morning to fill an engagement on Sunday. Efforts were made to get a sleeping car attached to the 7 p. m. train and pulled into Mayfield during the night or early morning but the railroad would not do it.

The Automobile Prizes.

On Friday evening the Ford auto was given away. Mrs. J. M. Rankin held the lucky number, 2216. J. W. (Buck) Elkins of Fairburg, got the Studebaker car number 6097.

A remarkable thing about the prizes was that four of the seven prizes went into two families. J. M. Rankin got the phonograph on Monday, 2556, and his wife had three tickets. Charley Elkins, son of J. W., got the kitchen cabinet, 6010. Every precaution was taken to insure a fair handling of the prizes and it was absolutely above question in every particular.

Base Ball Games.

There was a baseball game every day and Louisa won all of them.

On Thursday a junior team from Catlettsburg played a like team of Louisa boys.

On Friday Paintsville and Louisa played the score being 11 to 10 in favor of Louisa.

Sunday's Program.

On Sunday the home comers attended the Sunday schools and at 11 a. m. assembled at the M. E. Church South for a union service in which there was a program of singing and short talks. It had been planned to have these exercises in the public square, but shortly before the hour the committee decided to have the affair indoors, on account of the difficulty of singing in the open air.

Dr. W. B. McClure was called to preside and he did so with his usual ease and poise. The entire program was made up of local people (including some former residents.) The exercises were most creditable.

This ended the program of celebration.

CAPT. RHODES AND FAMILY.

Capt. Owen Rhoads and wife and baby, Owen Rhoads, Jr., aged eight months, arrived in Louisa last Friday and were guests until Monday of Miss Maggie Hatcher. They made the trip of two thousand miles from San Antonio, Texas in their car and left early Monday morning to drive another thousand miles going to Ft. Benning, Georgia, where Capt. Rhoads will be stationed.

Mrs. Rhoads is a niece of Miss Hatcher and daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. H. McClure, who moved from Louisa to Arizona when she was a child. She is their oldest daughter, Louise Elizabeth.

WE THANK YOU!

The following quotation is from a letter received from Malcolm Bayley, of the editorial staff of the Louisville Times and the compliment is very much appreciated:

"I want to congratulate you on that splendid centennial edition of the Big Sandy News. It was quite the most interesting number I have seen, at any time. I read it through almost from 'kiver to kiver,' even though I was not personally familiar with the surroundings."

DESERVES MUCH CREDIT.

Another of the officers of the Centennial Association who had a hard job was Mr. H. C. McClure, director of publicity. He wrote columns of matter in advance of the celebration and looked after the invitations that were mailed out. His was one of the most important parts of the work and he did it well.

NOTICE.

The September examination for teachers' certificates will be held in my office on Sept. 15 and 16. No person is eligible to enter this examination unless they reside in Lawrence county and have had at least one year of high school and five weeks of professional training. DOCK JORDAN, Superintendent.

Contracts For New Sidings to be Let

Railway construction contractors including representatives of Phipps & Morris and six other well known firms were in Ashland yesterday after an inspection tour of the Big Sandy division leading to the early installation of a number of new side tracks.

Contracts will be let at once for the construction of these new sidings which will be laid at numerous vulnerable points on the division. The contracts will cover all important work on the Big Sandy division figuring the C. & O. budget for 1922.

Work on the new tracks will begin within a very short time. It was announced at the C. & O. offices here today. Their construction will relieve to an enormous extent freight congestion on the road caused by the ever increasing business, and will make ordinary delays in train movement infrequent.—Ashland Independent.

Ironton Lumberman Killed by N. & W. Train

Ironton, O. Aug. 30.—After crossing railroad tracks at Ellison avenue here daily for thirty years, Will Nigh, 54, wealthy lumberman and general manager of the Nigh Lumber Company was fatally injured early today when his automobile was struck by a westbound N. & W. passenger train at the crossing.

He was taken to this hospital and died the following day.

The lumberman was on his way to his office, near his mill on the river side of the railroad tracks. He failed to see or hear the approaching train. His engine is believed to have stalled on the tracks. He jumped but not far enough to prevent his automobile from striking him after the engine had crashed into the car.

Nigh's wife and young son, William, Jr., and Mrs. R. M. Wallis a sister of Mrs. Nigh, left yesterday to go by automobile to Cynthiana, Ky. They were notified of the accident and returned here. He was a brother of Sam Nigh of Huntington.

LOUISA HIGH SCHOOL STARTS AUSPICIOUSLY

Contracts With County Board For Three Year's Work.

The Louisa High School and the graded schools opened last Monday with large attendance.

The High School starts off with an enrollment of 56. The board closed a contract with the Lawrence County Board of Education for teaching the County High School for three years, so that pupils from the county may attend free.

The faculty consists of five teachers: Prof. S. B. Godbey, principal, N. Q. Gilmer, W. A. Dorsett and Miss Robinson. The music and expression teacher will arrive later. Godbey and Gilmer were here last year.

Mr. Dorsett is from Indiana and will teach science and have charge of athletics.

Miss Robinson is from Georgetown, Ky. She takes the place held last year by Miss Hall and comes very highly recommended.

The board has rented the entire building owned by R. L. Vinson on upper Madison street to be used in addition to Masonic hall. Additional quarters will be provided for the music and expression department.

This is a school which will meet every requirement of the law, with full credits to those who pass. Pupils can attend with full assurance that they will have the best advantages in approved high school work.

THE BABY SHOW.

In the baby show which was held Friday afternoon, with Mrs. H. C. Sullivan in charge and Mrs. R. A. Bickel as judge, the prizes went to Billy Jean, little daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Calmes of Louisa and Clyde Edward, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. G. Childers of Gallup. Each was presented with a pair of blankets, special premium offered by J. Israelsky to the prettiest boy baby and prettiest girl baby in Lawrence county.

AUTOMOBILE WRECK.

G. W. Atkinson's automobile was wrecked and burned on Crabtree hill between Louisa and Wayne Tuesday evening. The destruction is said to be complete. He was alone in the car and it is said a wheel came off and caused the car to leave the road and turn over two or three times. It was a Cleveland touring car. Mr. Atkinson escaped with slight bruises.

LABOR DAY BALL GAME.

A game of base ball played here Monday between Ashland and Louisa resulted in a victory for Ashland by a score of 4 to 3. It takes a good team to beat Louisa when our two excellent pitchers, Tavenner and McGuire, get any support.

BURIAL OF MRS. FERGUSON.

The body of Mrs. Martha J. Ferguson arrived at Fort Gay, W. Va., on Thursday of last week and burial took place there beside her husband, Judge M. J. Ferguson, that afternoon. A number of Louisa people attended. H. E. Ferguson, of Louisa, had charge of the interment.

MURRAY WINS IN FIGHT FOR NEW NORMAL

Commission Adjourns In Deadlock Over Eastern Kentucky Location.

Frankfort, Ky., Sept. 1.—Murray won out in the selection of the site for the new Western Kentucky State Normal School at the meeting of the commission held in Judge E. C. O'Rear's office here today. The vote stood five to three.

Chairman O'Rear, Sherman Goodpastor, secretary of the Kentucky Jockey Club; former Senator Thomas A. Combs of Lexington, County Judge E. W. Senn of Mt. Sterling and Representative W. S. Wallen of Prestonsburg, the commissioners appointed by Speaker James H. Thompson, voted for Murray. The three commissioners appointed by Lieut. Gov. S. Thurston Ballard, Alex. G. Barrett and Judge Arthur Pejer of Louisville, and J. L. Harman of Bowling Green voted for Mayfield.

The commission adjourned in a deadlock over the location of the Eastern school and no statement was made as to how the commission voted in the nineteen ballots taken. It is understood that the contest finally resolved itself into a division between Morehead and Paintsville, four of the commissioners appointed by the Speaker probably voting for Morehead and those appointed by the Lieutenant Governor, and Representative Wallen, who lives there, standing by the Sandy Valley where the educational survey said the school should be located.

West Liberty Gata Votes.

It is reported, too, that at one time, West Liberty received two votes. Chairman O'Rear had openly advocated the selection of West Liberty. Louisa also received some votes.

A large delegation was here today from West Liberty but no Morehead representatives were present and Morehead people express no doubt that they will get the five votes necessary to choose.

Chairman Rainey T. Wells of the State Tax Commission, was on hand looking after the interests of Murray up to the time this commission entered into executive session. Princeton also had a few representatives on the ground.

Murray Must Meet Demands.

Alex. G. Barrett and Judge Senn were appointed a committee to arrange details with citizens of Murray, who must convey the land in fee, make a gift of land or money to the value of $100,000, satisfy the commission as to the purity and sufficiency of its water supply and meet such other requirements as may be imposed by the commission.

None of the Eastern contestants have been dropped from consideration and it is probable that before the commission meets again more complete data about the various towns will be collected.

Meeting of the Normal School Commission for another ballot on the Eastern Kentucky site is expected within two or three weeks, certainly before October 1st according to a member of the commission who said that confirmation of the different towns' claims and elaboration of advantages offered will be under advisement in the interim. No formal committee was appointed agreeing to make it a matter of personal study.

There were no arbitrary positions taken by any members in the controversy over the selection of the Eastern Kentucky site, according to the commissioner, who said that the meeting was carried out in a distinctly friendly tone, and that the failure to agree was due solely to honest variance of opinion on the merits of the sites under consideration.

"There is not a town on the list that will not make a creditable location for a Normal School," the commissioner said in commenting on the selection of Murray.

SUNDAY SCHOOL HOME COMING.

The Sunday school of the M. E. Church South sent special invitations to all persons who had ever attended the school and there was a most gratifying response, both in persons and by letter.

At the regular hour on Sunday morning the school opened with a song, then a prayer by the pastor, Rev. Bell. He made an address of welcome, which was responded to by Mrs. G. A. Nash of Ashland, formerly a teacher in this school.

In the choir space were seated all the visiting and resilient pupils of Mrs. F. T. D. Wallace that could be accommodated there. Mrs. Wallace played the piano.

Miss Elizabeth Burgess sang a solo, and Mrs. L. S. Johnson and Mrs. Nora Sullivan rendered a duet that they frequently sang many years ago in this school.

J. W. M. Stewart made an interesting talk, after reading some of the letters of regret from persons who could not come. Then, with most appropriate words, he presented to Mrs. Wallace a beautiful silver basket, filled with choice cut flowers, a tribute from the Sunday school of its appreciation of 50 years faithful service as a teacher there. It was a complete surprise to Mrs. Wallace. She was sitting with emotion and in responding words touched the audience.

MORE ABOUT THE NORMAL SCHOOLS

The Courier-Journal has had considerably more to say about the selection of sites for the normal schools, from which we copy the following.

Alex G. Barrett, member of the Commission, said in an interview:

"Regarding Morehead as the site for the Eastern school, residents of this town were instrumental in having the method of selection changed from choice by the State Board of Education to this commission consisting of five House and three Senate appointees," he said. "Whether there is any foundation to the statement that support of the Thompson tax bill was promised by Morehead interests in return for a promise to locate the school in that town is another matter of which I have no knowledge."

Appeared Open-Minded.

"All the members of the commission appeared to me to be always open-minded and attentive to the arguments advanced by each of the towns. Numerous persons told me they knew it was all fixed for Murray. Padueh residents especially misconstrued a speech by Judge E. C. O'Rear, chairman of the commission, in which he said he was a 'small town man,' to indicate that Padueh had no chance for the normal school."

Members of the commission will spend the next three weeks collecting data on the towns of Eastern Kentucky which are bidding for selection as the site for the new normal school to be located in that section of the State. Judge Arthur Peter, a member of the commission said, last night.

The commission will probably meet during the last week of September, he said. The commission adjourned Friday to meet at the call of Judge O'Rear at such a time that all the members can be present.

After selecting Murray for the Western School by a vote of 5 to 3, the commission was deadlocked for twenty ballots, with 4 votes each for Morehead and Paintsville.

Morehead, according to Judge Peter received the votes of Judge O'Rear, of Frankfort, Sherman Goodpastor, treasurer of the Kentucky Jockey Club; Thomas A. Conns of Lexington, and Earl W. Senff of Mt. Sterling. These men are House appointees.

The Senate appointees Judge Peter and Mr. Barret of Louisville, and J. L. Harman of Bowling Green, were joined by W. S. Wallen of Prestonsburg, in support of Paintsville.

Morehead, Judge Peter said, must offer conclusive proof that the buildings offered in lieu of the specified $100,000 are worth that amount of money, or, failing to offer buildings of such a value, to deposit a sufficient amount of money to make up the difference.

After examining the buildings in Morehead Judge Peter said he hardly thought they were worth $100,000.

Selection for the site for the new school is difficult in Eastern Kentucky because of the lack of roads and railway facilities and because of the mountains, he said. In some cases a road trip of 100 miles must be made to reach towns only a few miles apart, because of the impassable mountain paths, he said.

Two other towns received votes on the earlier ballots, Judge Peter said. Judge O'Rear voted for West Liberty and Louisa also received a vote.

Unless something can be done to break the deadlock, the commission will have to abandon Morehead and Paintsville and select another town in which Louisa stands the best show. Transportation facilities at West Liberty are so poor, Judge Peter said, that selection of this town would be unwise.

Publicity whereby Morehead was said to have been favored in an alleged political deal is said to have influenced Mr. Wallen in his vote for Paintsville. Morehead supporters had counted his vote assured. It is said.

The report that Mr. Wallen voted for Paintsville because of the alleged political deal in Morehead's favor is rather exaggerated. Mr. Barret said, for Mr. Wallen would naturally be in favor of the Big Sandy town since it is in his section of the Eastern part of the State. Mr. Wallen voted for Paintsville both in the Lexington and Frankfort meeting of the commission, he said.

TRI-STATE FAIR AT HUNTINGTON, W. VA.

With the arrival of September everything is bustle and bustle at the Huntington Tri-State Fair Association plant in an effort to have the plant in shape for the Big Fair to be held October 16 to 21. As soon as the work of building the grand stand and bleachers is completed the officials will be ready to throw open the gates and receive the 100,000 visitors expected to witness the first annual exhibition.

Unusual interest is being displayed by exhibitors and it has been difficult to allot the necessary space in many instances owing to the great demand to get in on the ground floor. It has been found necessary to devote nearly 20,000 square feet to take care of the display of the Merchants and Manufacturers.

Probably the greatest interest is being shown in the racing program. Over $30,000 will be given away in prizes to the running and trotting horses. Four running races and six trotting races have been arranged for each afternoon for the entire week. Two stakes for the light harness division have been opened, while in the running division two handicaps will be decided. Numerous entries have already been received for these events.

The agricultural and horticultural exhibits will out do anything ever attempted in the Tri-State region. J. B. Gervoy of Huntington is superintendent in the former department, being assisted by Howard Thornburg and George D. Eaton. In the horticultural department J. L. Templeton of Incorporated, O., is in charge.

The poultry and pet stock exhibition has attracted widespread interest. Already reservation has been made for over 1000 birds. This department is in charge of R. W. Hall of Huntington, and sponsored by the entire staff of officers of the Huntington Poultry and Exhibit Company. The boys and girls club work will have a prominent display of all their projects while the county and public schools will also exhibit work done by the pupils. Director Crafton advises those who have not as yet received the Fair Catalogue which contains 104 pages of interesting classifications of premiums to advise the Huntington Tri-State Fair immediately as 1,000 copies are ready for those desirous of making entries. Already 3,000 copies have been mailed through the Tri-State region.

Excellent music promises to be a great feature of Fair Week at Huntington. Cervone's band, one of the world's best, has been engaged at a great expense to render daily concerts in front of the grand stand. "Jazz" Cervone, the leader was bandmaster on the steamer which took Woodrow Wilson into Brest, France. He also played for General Pershing and staff at Lo Mans, France. The Nuzzi band, famous of many celebrations, have been engaged also for the week, besides two other bands that will play on the 1 mile midway day and night.

It Has Set A New Standard

6 Cylinder—50 Horsepower—$995

The Jewett weighs more than 2800 pounds ready for the road. That at once proves that it cannot be compared with any "light" six on the market.

It is equipped with a fifty horsepower motor of 3 1/4 inch bore and 5 inch stroke. To find a motor of equal power you must look to cars that sell for a much higher price.

It is important to remember these facts. For they prove that the Jewett is built with excess strength in every detail of its frame, transmission, clutch, drive shaft and special Timken axles.

And they prove most conclusively that the new reduced price of $995 f. o. b. Detroit is the standard of value by which all five passenger sixes must be judged.

It is sold and serviced by Paige dealers everywhere

DEMOCRATIC TICKET.

For Congress—W. J. Fields.

Dr. Ganfield, who resigned last year as head of Center College at Danville and returned to his former home in Wisconsin, has just been defeated for the Republican nomination for United States Senate by Senator Robert M. La Follette. It is a very bad sign of the times when the people re-nominate such disloyal men as Reed and La Follette, especially over such patriots as Long and Ganfield.

State Superintendent George Colvin is doing no more here than he is at other places in the State where school conditions are bad. He has brought about the dismissal or resignation of several county superintendents and is putting educational matters upon a higher plane as rapidly as possible. He has induced the Legislature to make some vital changes in the laws which will help to raise Kentucky from her low position in educational circles if the laws are executed.

Elsey Ball, born and raised on Dry Ridge, was converted on Little Blaine under Abraham Crislip's preaching in 1867. He was sanctified at Bethel Camp Aug. 14, 1922, walked two miles to tell his brother, then six miles to tell others of his sanctification. His age is 76 years.

LEGALITY OF ACT TO BE SETTLED

Simmons Road Commission Bill Will Be Taken to Court of Appeals.

Preparation of a petition requesting a declaratory judgment on the Simmons Road Commission act was begun yesterday, says the Louisville Courier-Journal, at a conference of Gen. W. L. Sibert of Bowling Green, who is named as chairman of the State Highway Commission created by the bill; Senator R. C. Simmons of Covington, author of the act; Senator W. A. Perry, president pro tem of the upper house at the last General Assembly, and Judge Alex P. Humphrey, counsel for the plaintiffs.

The plaintiffs, according to Mr. Perry, will be General Sibert, Leslie B. Samuels of Hardtown and M. L. Conley of Cannel City, three of the four members of the commission named by the Legislature. Ben Weiler of Paducah, the fourth member of the new commission, is said to prefer to be named as a defendant with the other members of the present commission of which he also is a member. The Correct School Wardrobe

—calls for a few new Gingham Frocks

Every mother must consider the practical side of daughter's school outfit—heavy shoes for snowy days, a rain cape a serviceable sweater—and most important of all enough gingham frocks to bear the brunt of every-day service.

Straight-Line Models in Gingham & Percale

Plain and checked ginghams used in combination with plain fabrics give a number of these frocks an air of real smartness. They are trimmed with tasseled sashes, tucked collars and cuffs, P. K. Vests and deft touches of embroidery.

Moderate prices prevail throughout the entire collection—many excellent models as low as $2.50—none of them more than $5. A complete size range—8 to 15 years.

The Slip-Over Sweater

—gains New Popularity As An Outer Garment For Fall and Winter

The newest models are fashioned from elpce and mohair yarns in black, navy, brown and new heather mixtures. They are embellished with Oriental stripes at bottoms, and on sleeves and pockets. Quite the smartest effects we have shown for several seasons.

MINERAL BAND

Mayville's remarkable band of boys was one of the greatest attractions we could have had for the big centennial and home coming week. We believe there is no other musical organization of its kind in the United States that equals it. The youthful members were a continual source of wonder to the spectators on account of the excellence of their performance. It proves what young people mere children can accomplish under competent training.

The band brought here was composed of 36 members, all from good families. Their ages average 13 1/2 years. There are three girls amongst them. They play classical music like veterans; and they play jazz enough to pacify the jazzers. Their music is good enough for any occasion. The sincere appreciation by the huge crowds assembled here at every performance was so evident that it could not be misconstrued. Every number brought liberal applause. We were impressed by the way the classical numbers were received by the crowds.

The director was a member of the great Sousa band for years. No ordinary man could accomplish what he has with these youngsters.

F. L. Hendrickson and Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Glascock were here with the band. Two daughters of the latter are members of the band.

Enclosed is copy of a letter that makes an appropriate closing chapter for this article:

September 2, 1922.
Mr. J. Harbour Russell,
Manager Ky. Centennial Band,
Mayaville, Kentucky.
Dear Mr. Russell:—We wanted to keep your boys a day longer than we originally planned, but owing to the railroad situation find it impossible, and are compelled to let them go back to you this morning. Mr. Hendrickson and Mr. and Mrs. Glascock have all enjoyed the trip I am sure, and we have been happy indeed to have had them with us.

In bringing your band to our centennial we had in mind a purpose to show our people just what the business men of Mayaville by a united effort have made possible and at the same time to provide an inspiration to the youth of our county, but now as we look back over the week that has passed we know beyond the hope of expressing it in words that the greatest thing of all has been the wonderful music they have played in a way that will live in our memories always.

You have a great director in George D. Barnard. We know you are proud of him and proud of your band, and we are proud with you—proud that we may say that we have had them with us during an unforgettable week. We all hope for their return.

Sincerely yours,
CLYDE L. MILLER,
Manager Centennial Association.

Athletics Provided for Louisa High School

Louisa High School football candidates started practice Tuesday afternoon on the High School Campus.

Thirty candidates answered the first call and have been in constant training this week. It is expected that several more will report for work September 11. The work so far has consisted of conditioning and fundamental drills.

Louisa is looking forward to a successful football season even though it is its first year.

The Louisa School Board has shown great interest and foresight in securing W. A. Dorsett as athletic coach. Coach Dorsett has had a very successful career as a player and coach before coming here.

Dorsett is a product of the Four Year Athletic Coaching School of the University of Illinois. It is likely that he will use a similar system of coaching and play to that used by Coach Robert C. Zuppe of that institution.

Dorsett is rated as a strict coach and one who always keeps his team in condition. No foolishness is allowed by him and only those who come out for the team and prove to him that they can play football are allowed on the team.

Mrs. Josephine Rice had as guests last week Mrs. Cora Abbott McGrath and daughter, Miss Frances McGrath of Washington, D. C., Mrs. H. H. Hays and daughter, Winifred Hays, of Mt. Dr. W. B. McClure and daughter, Martha, returned to their home in Lexington on Monday morning after having spent Home Coming Week with Mr. and Mrs. R. C. McClure. Dr. McClure is a native Louisan and needs no introduction. He is "dead" to the "boys and girls back home" and is a frequent visitor here still speaking of Louisa as "back home." Miss Martha was a 1922 graduate of Kentucky University and is a talented musician.

SOMEBODY'S DARLING.

"Feeling Fine!"

"I was pale and thin, hardly able to go," says Mrs. Bessie Bearden, of Central, S. C. "I would suffer, when I stood on my feet, with bearing-down pains in my sides and the lower part of my body. I did not rest well and didn't want anything to eat. My color was bad and I felt miserable. A friend of mine told me of and I then remembered my mother used to take it. After the first bottle I was better. I began to fleshen up and I regained my strength and good, healthy color. I am feeling fine. I took twelve bottles (of Cardui) and haven't had a bit of trouble since."

CARDUI

Thousands of other women have had similar experiences in the use of Cardui, which has brought relief where other medicines had failed.

If you suffer from female ailments, take Cardui. It is a woman's medicine. It may be just what you need. At your druggist or dealer's.

The new Goodyear Cross-Rib Tread Cord

A Popular-Priced Cord Tire Without a Rival

The new Goodyear Cross-Rib Tread Cord Tire is built with genuine high-grade long-staple cotton as a foundation.

It is liberally oversize—the 4½-inch tire, for example, measuring nearly 5 inches.

The deep, clean-cut, cog-like pattern of its tread affords excellent traction even in snow and mud, engaging the road like a cogwheel.

The scientific distribution of rubber in this tread—the wide center rib and the semi-flat contour—gives a thick, broad surface that is exceedingly slow to wear.

This new tire is a genuine Goodyear through and through—in design, in material, in construction.

It costs less to buy than the net price you are asked to pay for many "long discount" tires of unknown reputation and value.

Why be satisfied with less than this efficient tire can give—why take a chance on an unknown make?

Compare these prices with NET prices you are asked to pay for "long discount" tires

YATESVILLE

The talk of all is of the grand time that was had at Louisa during the past week. All of Yatesville was glad and merry. We saw some of the finest stock on the road in and from the fair that your scribe ever beheld and also noticed the blue ribbon attached; and we are proud to note that our Yatesvillers got a very liberal share of the premiums.

J. W. Ekins, one of our good neighbors, hawked in the fine Studenizer car as did his son, Charley, the kitchen cabinet and Mr. Neal Holbrook another one of our best neighbors also got a ten dollar premium on the best bull.

If there was anything like as many people and cars traveled to town over all the other leading roads to Louisa as there was over the Louisa and Waynesville pike we can't see where in town the people stood or where they parked their cars. It was a daily thing throughout the week that the road was full of cars going and coming and we noticed that many whole families went in wagons and everybody that your scribe heard speak about it says they had the time of their lives.

Some two or three days ago Mrs. William Ekers had the misfortune to step on a rusty nail which penetrated her foot and it is giving her a great deal of pain.

Little Miss Pauline Sauters, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jay Sauters, has been on the sick list for several weeks past and her condition is but little improved at this writing.

Jay Roberts, one of our neighbors who has a job in an oil field at Bowling Green has been visiting his family here, but returned to his work one day last week.

The next and most important event to take place in our neck of the woods is the annual conference of the Methodist brethren on Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday, Sept. 11, 12, 13 and 14, which begins on the 11th inst. and is to continue the four following days. Jim Hughes wants everybody to know that he is making preparations to feed everybody on the ground.

Your scribe was on Bear creek on business a week ago and was greatly delighted with the cleverness of the people of the Bear creek and Hove creek section.

Mrs. George Burchett of the Morgans creek section has been dangerously ill for some time past but the latest reports say that her condition is somewhat improved.

G. W. Castle, our county attorney, was here looking over the roads and involving as a dry run so of last week.

25 YEARS AGO.

Nobody swatted the fly. Nobody wore a wrist watch. Nobody had appendicitis. Nobody wore white shoes. Nobody sprayed orchards. Nobody knew about radio. Most young men had "livery bills." Farmers came to town for their mail. Many people read by the candle or kerosene light.

The heavens were not full of man-birds. Nor the seas alive with underwater boats.

The hired girl drew one-fifty a week and was happy.

Young men learned trades at $5 per week.

The butcher "threw in" a chunk of liver.

The merchant "threw in" a pair of suspenders with every suit.

Nobody listened in on the telephone. There were no electric meters.

Nobody observed a sane Fourth. Straw stacks were burned instead of baled.

Publishing a newspaper was not a business. It was a duelling game.

There were no Bolsheviks nor "isms."

The safety razor had not introduced the clean-shaven face.

"Equipped with gas" was prominent line in flats-toilet advertisement.

Office folks didn't know about naps in the summer time, and lee water was a treat.

Many folks retired at 9 p. m. and rose at 5 in the morning.

Nobody hoped for a dry nation. There were no moving pictures.

Nobody had an automobile. Not many people had talking machines.

(Times have changed.)

SETTLED!

No feud have I with Father Time; he has been very kind; I've kept my girlish figure and youth's optimistic mind; I had forgot to count the years—they passed me like a streak— Till I went back to Louisa to spend Home Coming Week.

I had forgot to count the years; ah, vain futility! All of my native villagers had kept the count for me. I thought I could turn Life's Book to childhood's happy page And thus renew my youth; alas! I learned anew my age.

Each citizen of Louisa, that garden spot of earth, The moment that we met recalled the year that gave me birth. The Big Sandy News proclaimed my date I reached this world of woe Under the pleasing headline: "Events of Long Ago."

I met the oldest settler, all wrinkled, worn and wan; His slight they said, had failed him quite; his memory was gone; But when they tried to make it clear just who I claimed to be, With gentle squeak he quoth: "Why, she wuz born in eighty-three."

So gladly did I hie me from my home town's revelry— Old Settlers they were rightly named; they surely settled me— And gayly do I turn to greet the city's noise and jam, Where not a single soul I meet knows just how old I am.

—Maud Kennen Waddock, Appropriated from Ladies Home Journal.

HOME COMING.

I am glad to be here And my heart is so full Of the things I should utter, But cannot, I fear. But, nevertheless, I am happy today, For it's good to be back When one's been long away.

I am glad to be here In this homelike old place, Amidst these sweet kindly faces Of those I hold dear. Old friends and new friends This is all I can say, It's good to be back When one's been long away. (The above appropriate lines were presented by Mrs. May Noble Wellman.)

HOME CIRCLE COLUMN

Blighting Words.

If the merely idle word is one day to be accounted for and judged, what of the untrue, impure, the profane, the malignant and cruel words with which this earthly air is continually charged? Only a movement of the lips, a moment's stirring of the air, and all is silent as though the word had never been spoken; yet a fellow-creature's happiness has been blighted; a navy burden has been made still heavier to bear; a heart has been robbed of its guilelessness and trust; the seed has been sown of a career that ends in ruin and death. Those words are not dead. Though they seem to be hurried in everlasting oblivion, yet, when the judgment throne is set and earth's myriads are gathered together to be by their words justified or by their words condemned, they will return with solemn reverberating echo out of the darkness of the past, and fall with dismay and shame on the ears of those who spoke them. And those words—faithful pure, begin—passing to and fro among men like white-winged angels, carrying messages of love and hope and healing from heaven; words almost divine in their ennobling influence, helping us ever onward and upward along life's journey—those, too, will awake from their sacred slumber, and amid the grateful murmur of the multitudes whom they have gladdened comforted and saved, their blessed sound will be heard on earth once more.

of a vision. Gird up your loins, and in good earnest, seek to acquire the highest ability in your art calling or profession. Let each day see you advancing in skill and knowledge; and as certain as the sun shines, or the water runs, you will rise above the common mass. And just in the degree that your motives are honorable and unselfish, will you add happiness to success in life.

There are few young men nowadays who show habits of thrift and economy. There is a disposition to spend rather than save, and thru love of personal adornment, expensive habits, and a lack of that desire to lay aside funds for a rainy day, our young men are not acquiring a reputation for forehandness, which might prove of inestimable value to them in the future. We would not desire them to be mean or selfish, but there is a happy medium between a spendthrift and a miser. Gny companions, pool playing and fine livery turnouts will never enrich any young man.

Never cast aside your friends if by any possibility you can retain them. We are the weakest of spendthrifts if we let one friend drop off thru inattention or let one push away another, or if we hold aloof from one for petty jealousy, or heedless slights or roughness. Would you throw away a diamond because it prickled you? One good friend is not weighed against the jewels of the earth. If it prickles you, or unkindness between us, let us come face to face and have it out. Quick before the love grows cold. Life is too short to quarrel in, or carry evil or unkind thoughts of friends. It is easy to lose a friend, but a new one will not come for the calling, nor make up for the old one when he comes.

Don't call your mother "old woman." We often hear that from young men. Stop and think how it sounds. Old Lady is bad enough, but the "old woman" applied to her who gave you life and nursed your infancy, is rude and unkind. Once it was "Mother, I'm hungry, mother, I'm hungry, mother, put up my dinner," and many such things, and mother would spread the bread with butter and stow away the luncheon with her heart brimming with affection for you. Now, is she the old woman?

Doing nothing for others is the undoing of ones self. We must be purposeful, kind and generous or we miss the best part of our existence. The heart that goes out of itself gets large and full of joy. This is the secret of the inner life. We do ourselves the most good, doing something for others.

Political Chaos

Who doubts for a moment that there is at this time more or less political chaos in this country?

The political chaos of this country is approaching the political confusion in other parts of the world.

We haven't political parties today as they were understood at one time in the history of this country. We have what might be called political organizations carrying the names of ancient political parties.

In other words, the political parties have a name to live but they are dead.

The reason they are in this condition is because they have abandoned great fundamental principles of government, and doctrines of the Constitution. They abandoned them hoping that they might surrender principles for policies.

You can't build a great party on a policy; it must be built on a principle.

If the parties of this country are to be revived and invigorated you must inject into their backbone the virtus of inviolable principles, fundamental doctrines, constitutional programs.

Men tell you that the reason for the chaotic political situation of today is the primary election law. They say that the direct primary has destroyed party organization and responsibility. They want the primary law repealed. The primary law will not be repealed. It ought to be amended and in the following particular:

FIRST: Amend the law by creating the right to hold a PRE-primary party convention. If the party would meet in a pre-primary convention and nominate a ticket this would not prevent any individual or any number of individuals from using the provision of the direct primary law and filing their declaration of candidacy for office.

It would have the effect, however, of making the individual stand alone, on his merits, and independent of party support.

The pre-primary convention would file its slate under the same provision. When that slate was filed, the candidate under that filing would have the support, endorsement, and influence of the party.

In that way you would crystallize the party, restore its organization, responsibility, and accountability, and at the same time you would preserve to the individual the right to file independently under the primary law.

SECOND: You ought to amend the primary law and raise the qualifications for office. Men who are not qualified for the position have no right to be elected. If you want to save representative government raise the standard of office holders.

There was a man out in Long Island a week or so ago who took a horse around to a chap that runs a riding academy and he offered to sell the animal at a bargain.

"What's wrong with it?" asked the riding master. "Why, nothing," said the man with the horse. "It's really a fine animal for riding or driving. It's gentle, has lots of spirit and good staying power." The riding master asked the man why he wanted to sell it. "Well," he said, "my wife now has a baby and since she has the baby she has no time to take care of the horse." There were folk who criticized that man forgetting that it's a nice thing to be kind to animals and see they fall into good hands.

poem by UNCLE JOHN

Accordin' to palaver, which we seldom fail to hear, we're totterin' on the brink of certain doom. . . . We're hoverin' o'er the stage of dissolution, mighty near. . . . We're slunderin' in the shadder of our tomb! We're due to have a panic, an' a POOR OLD universe strike, we'll never see the taxes any lower. . . . The cattle market's busted—O, you U. S., never seen the like, and every bloomin' bank will close its door! There won't be any money, an' there won't be any coal. . . . They tell us in their every-day palaver, we can't escape calamity, to save our little soul, or add another woe to our cadaver.

It's true the crops is splendid, and the meddler-grass is tall; the country's full of everything to eat. . . . Old Dobbin seems to fatten in his sanitary stall—the souper-sixes crowd him off the street! The golf-link an' the movie-show is peopled to their gates.—The billion-dollar prize-fight draws the crowd. . . . The biggest diamond market is in these United States, where jewelry that's phony ain't allowed! But we mustn't let delusions shet out the awful truth, that poverty has got us by the pants. . . . The crack of doom pursues us, like a never-failin' sleuth—we haven't even got a fightin' chance!

From Uncle John.

PIKEVILLE

Business Visitor Here.

Ballard H. Weddington, of Coal Run was a business visitor here Tuesday. Mr. Weddington is one of the county's wealthiest real estate owners and besides has a large mercantile establishment near his home. When the $700,000 of good road bonds were voted a few years ago, Mr. Weddington was made one of the three county commissioners who were entrusted with the expenditure of that unit. His aggressive business ability and strong personal character are qualities that have played a leading part in his success.

Monday and Tuesday the county court here was engaged in an important trial in which the right of way for the county road over Judge John W. Ford's property at the Forks was involved. The county officers and Judge Ford had failed to come to an agreement as to the amount of indemnity to be paid the latter so condemnation proceedings were instituted and the question of damages were heard in court. The jury fixed the damage at $1200.

The right of way involved extends from the bridge which is being constructed across the Levisa Fork, back of the Ford home and up the Russell Fork.

Buys Bluegrass Farm.

Henry S. Barnett, who was formerly with the Pike County News, recently purchased a Bluegrass farm at a consideration of $14,000. The farm is located on the Paris pike within three miles of Lexington. Mrs. Barnett has been in Pikeville the past week looking after the packing of her household goods preparatory to moving to the farm.

Returns From Vacation.

A. J. Johnson returned Sunday night from an extended visit with relatives at Wytheville, Ivanhoe, East Radford and other points in Virginia. Mr. Johnson is C. & O. hostler at Shelby, which position he has held for nineteen years.

Supt. Wright Sells Home.

County Superintendent of Schools, Fonso Wright, sold his home in West Pikeville last week to John M. Moore and at once bought a lot in the Cline Addition where he will begin the erection of a residence next week. The property sold by Mr. Wright was very valuable as is indicated by the price of $15,000 which was paid for it. Pikeville always extends a hearty welcome to such hustling business men as Mr. Moore.

Local and Personal.

Dr. B. R. Gibson, who bought a farm near Richmond some time ago was in Pikeville Monday. Dr. Gibson's home on the farm was destroyed by fire last March. He has now sold his farm and will likely return to Pike county.

Mrs. Mont Lowe and children will leave Friday morning for their home in Roanoke after a visit with Mrs. Lowe's parents, and sister, Mr. and Mrs. John Williamson, and Mrs. H. Paulley.

Miss Alice Reynolds has returned from Richmond where she attended the summer session of the Eastern Kentucky Normal. Miss Reynolds also visited her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. M. D. Hager of Lexington.—Pike County News.

Omar Boy Loses Life in Logan Fire Sunday

Logan, W. Va., Sept. 6.—The body of Earl Spicer, who had been missing since the fire which destroyed the White & Browning building early Sunday, was found this morning under debris in the basement of the building.

The boy was burned only about the face and death is believed to have been caused by suffocation. The body was lying some distance from the building where he slept, and it is thought that he was making an effort to escape from the building when he was overcome by smoke.

Youth is Missing After Logan Fire

Logan, W. Va., Sept. 4.—One life is believed to have been lost in a fire which destroyed the White & Browning building here yesterday, when it was discovered tonight. Earl Spicer, who slept in the bowling alley basement when the fire started was missing.

Spicer, an 18-year-old pin boy at first was believed to have escaped, because firemen who first came to the building went to the young man's cot and found it empty. There were a number of reports also that he had been seen on the streets after the fire but these were investigated when Spicer's parents, living at Omar, became alarmed and nobody was found who had seen him. The firemen were prevented by the smoke from making an extensive search of the basement and it is now believed that Spicer became lost in the smoke while trying to escape.

Telephone equipment shipped from Charleston, Huntington and Watling to replace the destroyed Logan exchange of the Chesapeake and Potomac Telephone Company arrived today and work was being rushed to restore complete service as soon as possible.

FALL TERM OPENS.

Now while business is dull is the best time to enter a business school, because it will enable you to finish just about the time business is picking up. If you do not have the money at hand, it will pay you to borrow, so as to be ready at the right time.

Our tuition is payable at the beginning of each month, and we do not accept tuition more than one month in advance. The following is our monthly rates: $16 first month; $14 second month; $12 third month; $10 fourth and any succeeding months. Can you beat that for price and terms anywhere?

Even during these times of business depression, we are having more calls for bookkeepers and stenographers than we can supply. Just think what it will mean when business revives. We do not charge for placing our pupils in positions.

We are placing our pupils in positions today which pay almost double what they were paying seven years ago. Ordinarily the first month's salary pays back what your course with us cost you. Just think what a splendid value you are getting for your money!

Our teachers are all specialists in the line of work they teach and hold diplomas to show their preparation. They have done actual bookkeeping and stenographic work which makes their teaching very practical. This is a special advantage we are offering.

We do not charge for our diplomas. When a pupil has passed our requirements we give him a diploma free of charge. That makes our diploma a gilt-edge recommendation to a business man.

We have a dormitory for girls in the school building and charge only $8 a month for rooms, where girls are looked after as carefully as they would be at their own homes. We have a dining room in the school building where our pupils get meals at very reasonable rates.

Now we have laid the main facts before you. All you have to do is to make your arrangements and be here ready to enroll the week of September 4 and be ready for work September 11. We can take care of you on a moment's notice, and are ready and willing to work hard to prepare you for a fine position.

LAST OF FAMOUS MATEWAN CASES OFF THE DOCKET

The last of the famous Matewan cases was wiped from the circuit court docket today when Judge Bailey notified the indictments against Fred Burgraff and Reese Chambers for the killing of Detective Ferguson.

It will be remembered that at the first trial of some twenty men indicted for killing Albert Feltz there was a verdict of acquittal. This was followed by the trial at a subsequent term of court of Burgraff and Chambers for the killing of Ferguson, which resulted in a hung jury.

The cases against the other defendants were stricken from the docket at a later term, and now the entire matter ends with the action of the court in the Burgraff and Chambers case. Williamson News.
